A FREDERICK DOUGLASS REPUBLICAN™

It's not About Race; It's About Values

Some assume the expression, "A Frederick Douglass Republican™," is a minority sub-group of the GOP or the name of a foundation. Neither is the case. It has nothing to do with racial separation. The phrase "A Frederick Douglass Republican" is an all-inclusive political platform based on the LIFE-EMPOWERING principles of Douglass. It's not about race; it's about values.

As with, the turn of phrase, "Reagan Conservative" the Frederick Douglass Republican mantra is a political point of reference and serves as a rallying call—inspiring people to defend liberty.

Synonymous with the word conservative, Frederick Douglass Republicans are people who champion the LIFE-EMPOWERING values of Douglass: (1) Respect for the Constitution; (2) Respect for Life; (3) Belief in Limited Government; and (4) Belief in Personal Responsibility. A "black, dyed in the wool Republican" Frederick Douglass was the quintessential conservative Republican. Having served as the catalyst within the Abolitionist Movement, which gave birth to the Republican Party and ended slavery, Douglass' political views align with the beliefs of the Founding Fathers.

Uttering the name Frederick Douglass, a recognizable icon in American history, is akin to evoking the name of a beloved family member. Whenever the phrase (I'm a Frederick Douglass Republican) is mentioned, the utterer is not only held in high esteem, but the receiver is given a quick glimpse into his political psyche. As a result, the finger pointing of racism is nullified and the opportunity for political engagement begins. And, that's the power of the Frederick Douglass Republican™ Methodology.

In this interactive presentation, KCarl teaches conservatives how to employ the Frederick Douglass Republican™ Methodology. It's the same approach KCarl has used to become a leading authority on political engagement. This program is a powerful way to get everyone from grassroots volunteers to organizational staffers focused on the importance of creating impact at the precinct.
